

Connection Alchemist
Commiverse
Speaker | Facilitator | Podcaster

Shelley combines the latest academic wisdom with two decades in corporate communications, to help leaders combat loneliness at work, and support the social wellbeing of their teams.

Through mind-shifting talks and workshops, Shelley helps audiences unlock the power of authentic connection, so they can feel a sense of belonging at work and in their everyday lives.

Shelley holds a BA in Public Relations and is pursuing a Social Sciences MA at Royal Roads University.

CLIENT FEEDBACK

"I've known and admired Shelley for a couple of decades now. I've followed Shelley's career and journey and always kept a close eye on what she would take by the horns and run with. Whatever Shelley has done has always been something to watch closely. But never more so than her new training and coaching program."
